

Contents

Editors' Note and Acknowledgements	8
Preface (Helena SPURNÁ et al.)	9
—ESSAYS
1. Geoffrey CHEW: A Bohemian in Paris, Dada, Film, and All that Jazz: The Innovative Operas of Bohuslav Martinů and Georges Ribemont-Dessaignes	15
1.1. Introduction 15] 1.2. 'Objectivity' and 'Dynamism' as Key Factors in Martinů's Early Stage Music 16] 1.3. Georges Ribemont-Dessaignes: A Primary Link between Paris and Prague 19] 1.4. Larmes de couteau (Knife Tears , H169, 1928) 21] 1.5. Theatrical Hybrids including Film in Berlin, Paris, and Prague 31] 1.6. Silent Films and Their Music, and 'Opera-Films' 33] 1.7. Les Trois Souhails, ou Les Vicissitudes de la vie (H175, 1928–29) 36] 1.7.1. The Act II Ballade 38] 1.7.2. The 'Filming' of the Conte 40] 1.7.3. The Film Sequence 43] 1.7.4. The Narrative outside the Filming 45] 1.7.5. General Features of the Opera 46] 1.8. Postscript: Martinů's Unfinished Le Jour de bonté (H194, 1930–31) 49] Select Bibliography 51]
2. Helena SPURNÁ: The 'Polydynamic' Opera Bubu of Montparnasse by Emil František Burian	55
2.1. Introduction 55] 2.2. From the Novel of Charles-Louis Philippe to the Libretto 63] 2.3. On the Waves of Polydynamics 71] 2.4. Delayed Premiere in the State Opera Prague 82] 2.5. Conclusion 87] Select Bibliography and Sources 89]
3. Vlasta REITTEREROVÁ and Lubomír SPURNÝ: The Opera Utopianism of Alois Hába	91
3.1. The Search for New Music 92] 3.2. The Quarter-tone Opera Matka (Mother) 99] 3.3. The Struggle for Nová země (The New Country) 111] 3.4. Přijď království Tvé – Nezaměstnaní (Thy Kingdom Come: Unemployed) 120] 3.5. Conclusion 125] Select Bibliography and Sources 125]
4. Gwyneth BRAVO and Brian S. LOCKE: Mortal Encounters, Immortal Rendezvous: Literary-Musical Counterpoints between Erwin Schulhoff's Flammen and Karel Josef Beneš's Don Juan	127
4.1. A Play, an Opera, and an Interdisciplinary Imagination 127] 4.2. Schulhoff, Beneš, and the Cosmopolitan Milieu of Interwar Prague 132] 4.3. Cultural Counterpoints: Beneš–Brod–Schulhoff and the Genesis of Flammen 137] 4.4. "Darkness Invites Transgression": Cinematic Fragmentation in Schulhoff's Score 143] 4.5. Plameny : The Brno Premiere and Its Reception 151] 4.6. The Rendezvous of Immortals 157] 4.7. The Last Rendezvous 164] Select Bibliography and Sources 171]
5. Vlasta REITTEREROVÁ: The Challenge of Viktor Ullmann's Operas	173
5.1. Introduction 173] 5.2. New German Theatre (Neues Deutsches Theater) in Prague 176] 5.3. A Culmination 178] 5.4. Seeking the Kingdom of God on Earth 180] 5.5. Apocalypse in Art: Der Sturz des Antichrist 181] 5.6. The Text and the Music of the Symbols 190] 5.7. Satirical Comedy 200] 5.8. Terežín and Der Kaiser von Atlantis 204] 5.9. Ullmann's Female Heroines 211] Select Bibliography and Sources 215]

—INTERVIEWS & REFLECTIONS

BURIAN

- [E. F. Burian, Bubu z Montparnassu (Bubu of Montparnasse), State Opera Prague, 1999: Photodocumentation] 217

HÁBA

- Six Observations on the Performance of Hába's Microtonal Music (Lubomír SPURNÝ). 221

MARTINŮ

- The Opera Larmes de couteau Offers Great Challenges for a Stage Director (Matthew JOCELYN) 241
- Martinů as a Gate into the Modern Era of Opera (Neal GOREN). 249
- On the Dramaturgy and My Directing of Martinů's Larmes de couteau and Les Trois Souhails (Jiří NEKVASIL) 253
- Stylistic Variety in Martinů's Les Trois Souhails Continues to Amaze (Jakub KLECKER). 261

PRAGUE COMPOSERS

- Around Prague...* (Werner HERBERS) 265

SCHULHOFF

- We Interpreted Don Juan as Our Contemporary (Andreas BRONKALLA) 273

SCHULHOFF & ULLMANN

- An Edition Cannot Be Prepared without a Practical Foundation (Andreas KRAUSE) 281

ULLMANN

- In Ullmann's Sturz des Antichrist, Music Leads the Way (Jan Antonín PITFÍNSKÝ) 289

- APPENDIX: A List of Performances and Recordings: Czechoslovakia and the Czech Republic. 297

- "Musica non grata" ... and Yet It Still Resounds 305

- List of Figures 307

- List of Music Examples 313

- Index of Persons and Works. 315